

Ambitious about Autism

Have your say

EasyRead version

Ambitious about Autism - Who we are

We are the national charity for autistic children and young people.

Our job is to make it possible for autistic children and young people to do the things everyone else does.

What we do

We:

- run services

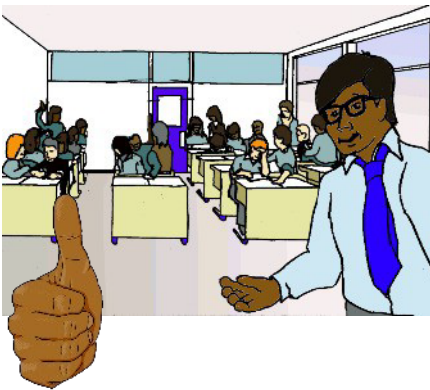

- tell people about autism

- campaign for change.

TreeHouse School and Ambitious College offers specialist education and support.

The Ambitious about Autism Schools Trust supports new special schools, like The Rise School and Spring School, to help autistic children and young people to learn, do well and achieve.

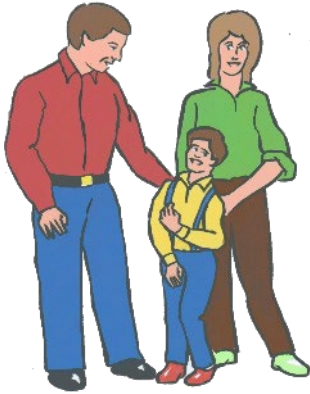

Ambitious about Autism try to do our work in the best ways possible.

To help us get better, we want to hear from:

- people who use our services

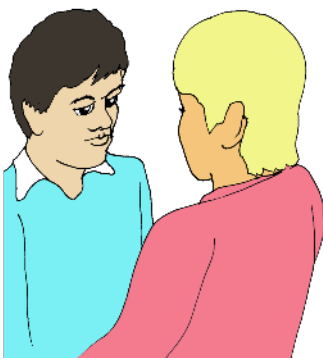

- parents and carers

- organisations

- people in the local community

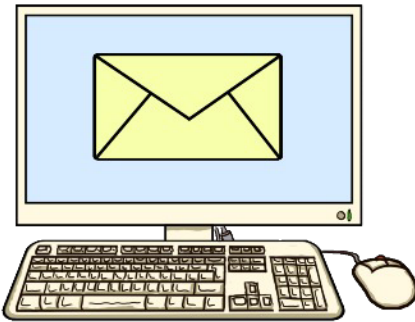

so please do let us know what you think,
and we will listen.

You can tell us what you think:

on our website:

<https://www.ambitiousaboutautism.org.uk/about-us/organisation-policies-and-reports>

by email:

feedback@ambitiousaboutautism.org.uk

By writing to us at:

The Director of Finance and Planning, Ambitious about Autism,
Woodside Avenue,
Muswell Hill, London
N10 3JA

Please include:

- the name of the service

- your details if you want us to reply

- the best way to get in touch with you.

Artwork includes material from the Inspired EasyRead Collection and cannot be used anywhere else without written permission from Inspired Services.

www.inspired.pics